In the US, there are 1.1K health systems, 6.1K hospitals, 8.5K ASCs, 15K SNFs, 123K physician groups and 1M physicians. You can't be everything to everyone, so how do you develop a winning model with your customers to drive speed to value?

Deborah Roy

Principal
Vizient

Let us guide you through a hands-on methodology for segmenting and prioritizing your distinct customer base and follow through with tailored approaches in delivering your value propositions and managing these strategic relationships.

During this workshop, you will:

- Understand how to execute a more effective and efficient go-to-market effort
- Identify customers where you have a higher likelihood of winning and establishing strategic relationships
- Hone your value proposition to unique customer segments

- Learn how your customers make clinical buying decisions
- Appreciate the value of involving and engaging physicians in the procurement process
- Discover how to incorporate data along with measurable key performance indicators
